

DELAWARE COUNTY

Washes Sproul-McClure Machine by Margin of 2000 Votes

VOTE IN CHESTER IS LIGHT

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger. Chester, Pa., May 17.—Gifford Pinchot smashed the powerful Sproul-McClure machine in Delaware County, winning by a majority of 2000 in the bitterest battle ever waged in this district. The former chief forester came to Chester with a lead of more than 4000, which was too much for the local machine to overcome.

The vote was surprisingly light. There was very little money in evidence, the leaders believing that Alter would win the county. The head of the ticket in many cases was lost sight of, due to the fact that in many of the precincts there were heated contests waged for the County Committee.

W. Cloud Alexander, present Assemblyman, and Harry H. Heyburn, who was defeated by Henry F. Miller in the last legislative fight, two years ago, both Pinchot supporters, were sure winners in the Second County district, with W. Howard Metcalf and Miller battling for third place. Mrs. Annie Miller Metcalf, secretary of the Women's Republican League of Pennsylvania, is running strong.

Walter H. Craig, in the First Chester District, won by an overwhelming majority over the Rev. Frank King. Darby, the town of Andrew McClure, uncle of John McClure, the former leader, was swept for Pinchot by 60 votes. This is the first time in many years that Darby has slipped away from the organization, says being counted on to win 500.

The second precinct of the eight was the banner district for Chester, Attorney General Alter winning, 326 to 7. The second precinct in the First Ward for the first time in sixteen years went for the organization by a majority of 39. Parkside, the smallest borough in the county, headed by W. G. Gibson, Governor Sproul's newsman, slipped into the Pinchot column, 60 to 30.

Swarthmore for Forester. Swarthmore, always independent, gave Pinchot a splendid majority. Former County Controller Orin L. Davis' district went for Pinchot by 200.

United States Senator Pepper will carry Delaware County by 6000 and Congressman Thomas S. Butler, chairman of the Military Affairs Committee, will carry the county by 5000. The vote of 5000 votes over Richard B. Bannwin, former speaker in the House of Representatives.

David A. Reed, for the unexpired and term Senator, is the leading vote getter in the county, and will have a substantial lead of 8000.

Assistant District Attorney William B. McClintock was seen in close touch with the political situation, declares that the result in the county is not surprising because of the number of candidates for the Legislature and numerous local fights for County Committee.

Norwood turned the tables on the organization, the first precinct giving Pinchot 225, and Alter 224. While the second precinct gave Pinchot 188 and Alter 98.

Vote Light in Chester. The vote throughout Chester was light, showing a marked apathy on the part of the electorate. Said John J. McClure, who directs the Sproul-McClure forces, "Less than half of the vote was gotten out. The combined Sproul-McClure gang, together for the first time since Governor Sproul was admitted, were opposed at the polls, with the exception of the women workers, who remained until closing time. Indications are that the city loan of $1,000,000 for the Board of Education was approved and passed.

No disturbance of any kind was reported in the city or county, it being the most quiet election in years. The Pinchot sentiment was too strong for the "regular machine" in the county districts. As an indication of how the votes were cast in the county outside the city, fifty-eight out of 110 precincts gave Attorney General Alter 4212 and Pinchot 8044.

Media went for Pinchot by overwhelming majorities in every precinct. Media has generally been close, but the severe setback to the organization group was unexpected.

The Pinchot result in the county is a decided victory for Judge Johnson, as he was the chief of the Pinchot organization. There was a determined effort on the part of the organization to defeat Alexander for the Legislature, but, contrary to all expectations, he was high man in the second county district.

There was virtually no fight among the Democrats of the county. William T. Ellis, unopposed, was nominated to oppose Congressman Butler at the general election.

Mayor William T. Ramsey, Chester, was high man in the city and county for member of the State Committee. Frank G. Perrin, Pinchot supporter, is premiering him closely.

Daylight-saving time put a crimp in the voting. Clerks and the average business man failed to cast their ballots early because the polls did not open till 8 o'clock, and in the evening the rush in many instances made it impossible for late comers to ballot.

U. S.-FRENCH DEAL PLANNED

League Will Be Asked to Approve Mandate for Syria. Geneva, May 17.—(By A. P.)—The United States and France are about to reach an agreement on the French mandate for Syria, according to information reaching the secretariat of the League of Nations. It is understood that the French Government is subject to certain conditions, which apparently will be met.

France is expected to ask the League to approve the mandate for Syria at a meeting, not later than July 15, at which the British mandate for Palestine is to be discussed.

WAR AMONG RUM RUNNERS

Florida Smugglers Tip Officers of Rival Fights, Haynes Is Told. Washington, May 17.—(By A. P.)—Civil war has broken out among Florida rum runners. R. W. Andrews, head of the legal division of the prohibition unit, returning today from Miami, reported to prohibition Commissioners Andrews. The result is, Mr. Andrews said, that the smugglers are tipping off the enforcement authorities when liquor ships of a rival fleet are expected, and many are being seized.

Mr. Andrews said that the smugglers have reduced more than 50 per cent due to the co-operation of the army and other agencies, which are

Ponder Over This Fact in Vote Polled Here

The combined votes for Pinchot and Alter in Philadelphia totaled more than 418,000, although in the second fight, the combined votes for Pepper and Burke were less than 300,000.

The returns showed that in the South Philadelphia wards, where the Combine is most strongly entrenched, the combined votes on the governorship fight were 4000 in excess of the combined votes for Pepper and Burke.

MAYOR SEES RATS QUIT BOSSES' SHIP

Voters Reveal They Are Tired of Being Overruled, He Declares

PREDICTS MACHINE SMASH

Mayor Moore expressed extreme pleasure with the election results today. He declared that while he felt assured that Pinchot had been victorious, the Republicans of the city and State had indicated, who ever the result, that they would not stand for control by the bosses.

"Now we will be able to go ahead with constructive work," he said. He spoke of possible resignations to the State forces, leaving him only Councilmen Patton and Horn, of his original supporters.

"I cannot see our way to big things without interference from petty politicians," he said. "The rats have left the ship and gone to Mr. Vare. Let him look after them and increase his payroll if he cares to. City employees in future must work for the city or get out, for now there is no one to speak for them."

The Mayor scanned the returns thoroughly and was equally pleased with the showing made by Pinchot in both city and State.

Lesson, Mayor Says. "It's a good lesson for Republicans," said the Mayor, "and a distinct warning to the boss contractors who have mistaken to run the Republican Party."

The boasted contractor majorities in Philadelphia did not materialize, and the people up State have given emphatic notice of their desire not to be overruled by boss parties in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

"The primary election has shown that Republicans know their rights and that they will not come out in party lines when they desire. If the contractor bosses in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh could see this situation as it presents itself, they would retire to their respective districts and permit Republicans to conduct their party affairs without offensive dictation."

The Philadelphia election was quiet and orderly. The police did their full duty and very few complaints of any kind reached headquarters. City employees did not come out in party lines for observing the law and regulations with respect to the activities of officeholders in politics. There was a marked change between the two classes of employees, those who worked for the city, who stayed on their jobs, as instructed by the Mayor, and those who are classed as county officeholders, who have lately been complaining about their public duty to work at the polls at the behest of their political leaders. This anomalous situation commends itself to civic service reformers and the Legislature.

The Mayor was asked what he thought the influence of the women's vote had been. He said: "While the women did not come out in party lines, they did better yesterday than at any previous election. The influence of women in politics is for democracy, and I firmly believe this time to establish that principle in politics."

YORK ROAD WOMEN WIN TWO VICTORIES AT POLLS

Return 1400 Pinchot Majority and Put Over School Loan

The women of the York road section won two victories yesterday in the primary. It was the woman vote that gave Gifford Pinchot an approximate majority of 1400 in the district, and it was they who also put over the school loan in Jenkintown.

The $175,000 for a new high school in Jenkintown passed by a margin of 218, as did the First Ward by four votes and in the Second by eleven votes, but carried in the third by 223.

In Clifton Township, Pinchot was given a majority of approximately 425, the Lanter district standing alone in giving Alter a small majority. The three wards of Jenkintown, on the face of incomplete returns, gave a Pinchot majority of 60. In Abington Township Pinchot received 1025 votes and Alter 570, a majority of 455 for Pinchot. Crescent was the only district that went for Alter.

With some of the large towns still to be heard from Pinchot carried Bucks County by a margin of 5000 votes.

An attempt to overturn the leadership of Judge Auditor General Charles Johnson in Montgomery County was apparently unsuccessful, with the three Johnson candidates leading in the legislative fight. The other candidates were: David Orr, Lansdale, and John Storb, Pottstown; Harold Pike, of Cheltenham, and Miss Minnie S. Just, of Andler, are trailing close.

FREE GIRL IN GEM THEFT

Not Sufficient to Hold Her in Harbison Case

Ruth Hayden, arrested at Harrisburg and taken to New York as a suspect in the theft of $70,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Mitchell Harrison, wealthy Philadelphia society woman, was released today.

Magistrate Footingham, of New York, heard the evidence the police had to offer against the young woman and decided it was not sufficient to hold her. It did not show any connection with the robbery, as the jewelry merely had been sent to her by her sweetheart, Lumen Belle, in a sealed packet which he asked her not to open but to return to him intact.

MAIN LINE ENFETE FOR OUTDOOR SHOW

Babies, Ponies and Dogs Vie With Fashions of Society in Brilliant Display

DOLLS PROVING POPULAR

With great crowds and carnival weather, the dog, pony, doll and baby show opened today on the William J. Clothier estate at Wynwood. The annual affair aids the emergency fund of the Welfare Federation.

Hundreds of pennants sparked in the sunlight, hundreds of thoroughbred dogs set up an incessant barking and from both to both on the great midway moved men and women—conspicuous figures in suburban society.

The best dogs of Main Line kennels looked their best at this morning when they showed up for the affair. The judges had hard work picking winners from an unusually fine field, all the most popular classes being entered.

The judges included Frank Morse, William Brown, Thomas Caldwell, James H. Cooper, Dr. Henry D. Warriner, Mrs. John Sinnott, P. A. B. Widdener and J. Ballou.

The pony show was held early this afternoon, and was no less interesting than the dog show. The Main Line babies, puppets and the dogs and ponies for popularity, infant representatives of the most fashionable families on the Main Line contended for the blue ribbon. Virtually all the babies of Haverford, Bryn Mawr, Bryn Athyn, Ardmore and Rosemont were in the show.

The doll and fashion shows, annually popular, were better than ever this year. The doll and fashion shows, annually popular, were better than ever this year. The doll and fashion shows, annually popular, were better than ever this year.

The ultimate dicta of correct things to wear were shown by a group of ladies, among whom were Miss Mary E. Altman, Miss Mary E. Glendinning, Mrs. C. Paul Denker, Mrs. Ralph Edmond, Miss Theodora Lillie, Miss Mary Law, Mrs. J. Clayton Strawbridge, Mrs. Harry C. Thayer, Mrs. C. A. Hecksher, Mrs. Wetherill, Mrs. Barney Warburton, Jr., Miss Peggy Thayer, Miss Rebecca Thomson, Mrs. A. L. Lunn, 3d, and Mrs. Persifer Frazier, 3d.

A cabaret show has been arranged for this evening, at which stage and screen stars are expected to appear. Among those expected are Betty Cooper, Corinne Griffith, Hope Hampton, Katharine Perry and Owen Moore, of the movies, and Charlotte Greenwood, of musical comedy fame.

SMALL SCORES TWICE IN CONSPIRACY TRIAL

Court Bars "Safe Account" Testimony Against Illinois Governor

Waukegan, Ill., May 17.—(By A. P.)—Governor Len Small won two rulings over protests of the prosecution yesterday in his fight to disprove the State's charges that he conspired with Lieutenant Governor Fred E. Sterling, the late Senator Edward C. Curtis and Vernon Curtis to embezzle State funds.

The Governor's attorneys succeeded in having stricken from the record testimony of two employees of the State Treasurer's office after they had testified to their knowledge of the "safe account," which the State claims was synonymous with Grant Park Bank, alleged to be a fictitious institution.

On cross-examination of Harry Luehrs, Assistant State Treasurer, it was brought out that the witness understood deposits in the Grant Park Bank were secured by proper collateral which Governor Small told him was held at Chicago, that the Governor and Mr. Sterling, during their terms as State Treasurer, paid in more than $700,000 interest, presumably on these deposits.

The State read into the record drafts on the Treasurer's office made payable to the Grant Park Bank and indorsed by Edward C. Curtis and Vernon Curtis. The drafts aggregated $14,575,000.

TO CONSIDER PALESTINE

League of Nations Will Act on British Mandate Before July 15

Geneva, May 17.—(By A. P.)—The Council of the League of Nations decided today to hold a special meeting not later than July 15 to consider the question of approving the British mandate for Palestine. The decision was taken on request of the Earl of Balfour. He first asked for a meeting within six weeks to act on the mandate, but Leon Bourgeois, for France, and Maurice Lemaire, for Italy, objected.

Lord Balfour, in a speech before the council, said Great Britain was greatly disappointed that the present session had failed to register the league's consent to the terms of the mandate, but the allied Powers had long ago agreed upon.

"CHARM" WAS INDIGESTIBLE

Voodoo Doctor Held—Says He Fed Bat Wings to Sick "Client"

Thomas Cunningham, a Negro, 447 Central street, was held under $500 bail today by Magistrate Bonshaw charged with having practiced voodoo rites and having tried to charm an illness from Caroline Chase, colored, 1627 Page street.

Caroline is now so ill from eating the charm she is under treatment in a hospital. It was testified by her roommate, Malinda Cobb, Malinda described buying the charm or potion, consisting of a dose of bats' wings and powdered lizards. There were prayers and ceremonies also, said Cunningham's home.

Mrs. Josephine Ferretti Mrs. Josephine Ferretti died Saturday morning at her home in Atlantic City following three weeks' illness. She was the daughter of Mrs. Pasquale Capobianco, wife of a cigar manufacturer of this city. Mrs. Capobianco is seriously ill at her home, 764 South Seventh street, and news of her daughter's death has been withheld from her.

Dier's Lunch Bill $35,000 in a Year

Continued from Page One. The large expenditure the firm was said to have paid only $630 in Federal taxes and $30 State taxes. On the other hand it paid out $55,000 for counsel fees. All told, Mr. Reis said, he believed the total of losses will be much nearer the $4,000,000 mentioned in the first estimate than $3,000,000.

Mines Show Loss. The accountant also had gone into the finances of the El Progresso gold mines in Mexico, which Dier had utilized to reassure uneasy customers and which he contended would supply funds where he had to pay off all customers. The mines had cost the firm for the year $134,000, mainly salaries to employees and cash advances to individuals connected with the property.

Mr. Reis asserted that there was a possibility of recovering perhaps hundreds of thousands of dollars, inasmuch as the charges made on the Dier & Co. bills largely exceeded the actual figures, were of amounts charged against the firm, when, properly speaking, many of them should have been made against individuals.

Mr. Hayes stated that certain stock exchange houses which had been subpoenaed and instructed to produce their books, had consented to an adjournment in order that their books might be examined by the accountant for the trustee in bankruptcy.

The next hearing in New York will be held on May 25 at 2 o'clock.

Beveridge Causes New State Line-Up

Continued from Page One. public life. McCray, the Governor who succeeded Goodrich, was on the fence as between the two rival leaders of Indiana, and Hayes caused to exercise influence in order that their books might be examined by the accountant for the trustee in bankruptcy.

With the defeat of New, all members of the New, Hays, Goodrich combination went out of public life. Meanwhile Watson gained strength through his story in 1920 and through the election of a State administration which was at least as favorable to him as to New.

The development of Beveridge's strength gave Watson and McCray their opportunity to get together against New and Beveridge, seeking support of the rising power in the State, is supposed to have reached an understanding with them.

See Split at Election. It is admitted here that this struggle for supremacy in the machine will be felt on Election Day. Mr. New's friends are bitter about his defeat. They belong to the more conservative element in the Republican Party, and are naturally not favorable to Mr. Beveridge. On the ground of what he represents, Mr. Halston, the Democratic candidate for Senator, is more acceptable to them than the former Progressive who was the Republican nomination. Also by cutting Beveridge they may punish Watson for his alleged treachery to New.

On the other hand, Mr. New is so close to the Harding Administration and the loss of Indiana by the Republicans would be so severely felt by the Administration that he is almost compelled to do his utmost for Mr. Beveridge.

Indiana is always also a test State of the strength of the Republican and Democratic Parties, since it is normally close, but factional conflicts figure so largely in the situation there that no one can tell what will happen in November.

THREE "VETERANS" BEATEN

Members of Lower House From Lackawanna Fail of Renomination. Scranton, Pa., May 17.—(By A. P.)—Three veteran members of the lower house of the State Legislature went down to defeat in the primaries yesterday. They were Hugh A. Dawson, of the Second District; W. W. Jones, of the Fifth District; and Fred C. Eberhardt, of the Third District.

The latter was the oldest Republican member of the House. He served continuously since the session of 1905. Jones and Dawson were staunch supporters of the Administration in the recent 1921 session. M. J. Ruddy, lone Democrat from Lackawanna County, was also defeated. Representative David Taylor and Walter W. Kohler were renominated.

Senator Albert Davis won renomination on the Republican ticket by close to 4000 majority. The Democratic nomination was opposed for the Democratic nomination.

TWINS WED TWINS. Kansas City, Mo., May 17.—John Kuhn and Raymond Kuhn, twins, living in Ellis County, were married to Mary Ann Kuhn and Anna Mary Kuhn, twins, living in Walker. The families are not related.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM PRIMARY VICTORY

But Air of Confidence Is Lacking—Sproul Surprised at Light Vote

ANYBODY'S RACE NOW

Leaders of the Pinchot and Alter forces hesitated today in predicting the outcome on account of the lack of definite returns from the country districts. But supporters of both candidates were hopeful of victory.

Senator D. Edward Long, campaign manager for Pinchot, said: "The outcome will undoubtedly be very close. I think, however, that the Pinchot vote in the country districts will enable him to pass Mr. Alter and win the nomination despite the latter's present lead of approximately 25,000 votes."

Mr. Pinchot remained at his State headquarters in the Real Estate Trust Building until 5 A. M., when he went to his apartment in the Bellevue-Stratford.

Declines to Comment. "I have no comment to make until the outcome is known beyond speculation or question," he said. The light balloting surprised Governor Sproul.

"It was a lighter vote both ways than any one expected," he said. "It has been a real fight by both sides, that much is certain. I am particularly gratified at the nomination of Senator Pepper and of Major Reed. Both men possess unusual ability, and will do as much as any two men can to restore Pennsylvania to its proper position in the United States Senate. I am very proud of any part I may have played in the selection of these two outstanding representatives."

Senator Vare still believes Alter will win. "I have been informed by W. Harry Baker," said the Senator, "that Alter's lead in the State will be about 25,000. I see no reason to change my opinion that Mr. Alter has won."

Women Played Big Part. "The women played a most prominent part in the primary election. They came out in goodly numbers, and were firm in the support of their candidate. I was greatly surprised at the result in Germantown, because I really expected a much larger Alter vote in that district."

"If the primaries had been held two weeks later Alter would have had between 100,000 and 150,000 majority. The organization did not realize that it had a real fight on its hands until the last moment."

Praise of the women for the work they did at the polls was given by Mrs. Archibald Harmon, leader of the women workers for the Vare forces. When seen at her home, 5247 Baltimore avenue, she said: "Without the splendid work of the women at the polls little could have been accomplished. They were out from the time the polls opened until they closed at night, working hard for their favorite cause and never stopping during the day and worked with the proper spirit."

Mrs. Harmon declined to make any comment on the result, but said she might have something to say when it was definitely known who had won.

FUNDS TO RESTORE STATE FORESTS URGED AS NEED

Trees Safeguard Drinking Supply, Waterworks Association Told. Granting of greater funds for the restoration and preservation of Pennsylvania forest lands was urged by George R. Taylor, of Scranton, speaking today before the convention of the American Water Works Association in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

"It is a responsibility that both the State and nation should bear," he said in referring to the restoration of Pennsylvania's 5,000,000 acres which he characterized as a desert. "The current forest fires," he said, "should be curbed by a greater force of State wardens and more money should be appropriated for this use."

Mr. Taylor said forests formerly furnished Pennsylvanians with homes to live in, but now are scarcely able to supply wood for coffins for the people. He said good forests are necessary to a pure water supply.

Almon A. Sales urged the necessity of keeping the water supply pure. He spoke on industrial waste in relation to the water supply.

OFFICERS OF 28TH TO FILE OUSTER KICK WITH COUNCIL

Councilmen Agree Park Commission's Ruling Was Out of Line. Protest against the treatment of the Fairmount Park Commission, on whose orders they have been compelled to vacate the band stand plaza on the Parkway, will be made to Council tomorrow by officers of the Twenty-eighth Division, who are holding a reunion here this week.

The men were compelled to remove their equipment Monday night by park guards, who said orders to that effect had been given by Eli Kirk Price, vice president of the commission.

Several officers of the division units, including Major Harris Walters, 105d Cavalry, Major Robert Morris, and Captain Elton G. Baker, 103d Cavalry, will be among those who will protest to Council.

Numerous Councilmen agree that the action of the commission was entirely out of accord with a spirit of hospitality.

WOODWARD IS PLEASED. State Senator Gives Much of Credit for Victory to Women. State Senator George Woodward expressed gratification today. "I went to bed happy last night," he said, "when John Smithies telephoned me the figures for the Thirty-eighth Ward. I am very pleased to my friends, and have no doubt but that they will be equally pleased to have defeated Andrew W. Froese in the Forty-second Ward. In my own ward I have so many good friends I can only take off my hat to the women. I visited several divisions with my friend John Basford and found in every one women watchers on the job."

Man of Mystery in 37-Day Fast

Continued from Page One. suit of overeating and his professional and social acquaintance with tobacco; though, no doubt, the cathartics and other medicines administered to him helped. The theory of his fast is to eliminate this poison. When the poison is gone he will break his fast. How soon this may be he does not know, but he expects to carry the fast for at least another two weeks.

For two weeks more he will live on the juice of oranges. Then slowly, very slowly, he will adapt himself to a comparatively strenuous diet of milk—milk from pure-bred Holsteins only. Never, never again will he attempt to reconcile his insatiable desire for mouse vienas, Epson salts or nicotine.

One understands that he will leave his fast rather regretfully. Now, as he says, he is in the fullest vigor of many years. His mind is as clear as the spring behind the farmhouse and the retentive of what passes through it as the blackberry bushes on the hill. He feels no urge for food. He is even able to work in the kitchen with comable indifference, and to listen to the dinner bell with a cynical smile on his lips.

One understands that he will leave his fast rather regretfully. Now, as he says, he is in the fullest vigor of many years. He is even able to work in the kitchen with comable indifference, and to listen to the dinner bell with a cynical smile on his lips.

"I got sick," he said. "I spent most of the time walking about in the park. But the sun was full of smoke and it bothered me. The exhaust from the automobiles bothered me, too. But after that it came easier, and every day it gets easier yet."

"That first call you feel for food isn't hunger, it's only appetite. It's when you get your second hunger, when they call it, that you know your body's living on its own tissues and it's time to give it something. I ain't come to that yet. I'm still living on the poison in my intestines."

"All a man needs to make a fast is will-power and plenty of water. It's a course it's a good thing to do like I did, read up on the subject first."

There is no doubt that "Mr. Briggs" is regarded with a half religious awe, deriving his persistence from some inward force. "I have chosen to follow his example. But if others elsewhere are inclined to the attempt, 'Mr. Briggs' is willing to give them the benefit of his knowledge and experience, quite without condition except that they must not seek to learn who he is and where he came."

ALTER SWINGS HOME TOWN

Receives 429 Votes as Against 19 for Pinchot

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 17.—(By A. P.)—Attorney General Alter carried the little borough of Springdale, on the Allegheny River, where he was born and has always lived, with 429 votes as against 19 for Gifford Pinchot.

Mr. Alter, accompanied by his wife, voted early in the day and was warmly greeted by electors and a party of friends who had gathered at the polling place in the schoolhouse.

3 PHILA. WOMEN TO GO TO ASSEMBLY

Mrs. Speiser, Mrs. Pitts and Mrs. de Young Win C. O. P. Nominations

ARE CERTAIN OF ELECTION

A woman's Legislature in Pennsylvania will soon be a thing of the past. That fact became evident today when returns from the primary election revealed that Mrs. Martha G. Speiser, First District; Mrs. Rose de Young, Seventeenth District; and Mrs. Lillian H. Pitts, Twenty-first District, all candidates for the Legislature from this city, carried their districts by substantial majorities.

Several other women legislative candidates from this city and surrounding counties also are likely to be winners when the final returns are tabulated.

Mrs. Speiser, the wife of an Assistant District Attorney, was unopposed for the Republican nomination in her district. Her total was 14,027 votes. Thomas F. McGowan, who will represent the First District in the Legislature with Mrs. Speiser, also was unopposed. He polled 12,532 votes.

In the Twenty-first district Mrs. Pitts ran in front of a field of eleven candidates. She polled 14,103 votes. The other successful entry in this district was Jacob Mathay with 13,048 votes.
